About CAMBA

Our Mission
CAMBA is a non-profit agency that provides services that connect people with opportunities to enhance their quality of life.

Why We Exist
Many New Yorkers face daily hurdles such as housing instability, living with HIV/AIDS, language barriers, domestic violence, and insufficient job skills. Since 1977, CAMBA has helped New Yorkers transform their lives by providing holistic programs to individuals, families and communities.

What We Do
CAMBA takes a comprehensive approach to helping individuals, families and communities thrive, offering integrated programs in: Economic Development, Education and Youth Development, Family Support, Health, Housing, and Legal Services. Our programs build inclusive communities where New Yorkers have the support they need to reach their full potential.

Who We Serve
CAMBA reaches more than 45,000 individuals and families each year, including 10,000 youth. We serve a diverse cross section of New Yorkers from new mothers in Brownsville to job seekers in the Rockaways. More than half of our clients are immigrants and refugees from around the globe. Over 85 percent of our families are living in poverty, reflecting the challenges faced by nearly 1.7 million New Yorkers today.

Who We Are
CAMBA’s dedicated staff of over 1,600 represents the diversity of the communities we serve: 89 percent of staff are people of color, 15 percent are former CAMBA clients with intimate knowledge of the issues our current clients face, and 25 percent speak a language other than English, accounting for 35 different languages.

Where We Are
CAMBA’s services are accessible from more than 83 locations throughout the five boroughs.

Program Summary: CAMBA’s Healthy Families Home Visiting Program follows an evidence-based voluntary home visiting model designed to provide supportive services to families that begin prenatally, at birth, or for infants less than three months (services may continue through age five). Through periodic home visits, CAMBA promotes positive parent-child interaction that prevents child abuse, neglect, and other adverse childhood outcomes that can cause developmental delays. We also connect families with medical providers for prenatal/well-baby visits and immunizations, and provide information on prenatal care, parenting, infant and child development, and child health. Our services are offered in English, Haitian Creole and Spanish.
